

Abstract.

The present invention relates to human immunodeficiency viruses 1 (HIV-1) that infect CD8-positive cells using CD8 as a receptor, to detection methods for the viruses and to prophylactic and therapeutic methods for infection by the viruses.